Docket: IMM-1009-09

Citation: 2009 FC 1188

Ottawa, Ontario, November 19, 2009

PRESENT: The Honourable Mr. Justice Beaudry

BETWEEN:

LYNN MEPHAM

Applicant

and

THE MINISTER OF CITIZENSHIP AND IMMIGRATION

Respondent

REASONS FOR JUDGMENT AND JUDGMENT

[1] This is an application for judicial review pursuant to subsection 72(1) of the Immigration and Refugee Act, S.C. 2001, c. 27 (the Act), by Lynn Mepham (the Applicant), of a decision of an Immigration Officer (the Officer) at the Canadian High Commission in London, dated December 22, 2008, where the Officer rejected her application for permanent residence as a member of the skilled worker class.

Issues

[2] The questions at issue are as follows:

- a. What is the appropriate standard of review of the Officer's assessment of education points?
 - b. Did the Officer err in assessing the points for education?
- [3] The application for judicial review shall be allowed for the following reasons.
- [4] The Applicant is a citizen of the United Kingdom and made an application for permanent residence in Canada as a member of a skilled worker class.
- [5] The Applicant submitted information pertaining to her education. She listed that she had a total of 12 years of education for both her primary and secondary school. She also indicated that she has completed a number of post-secondary programs. She holds a certificate in horticulture obtained between September 1987 and June 1988, a B.T.E.C. National Diploma earned from September 1989 to July 1992, a certificate of Level 1 – Understanding for studies from September 2006 to January 2007 and a diploma in Pre-School Practice for studies from January 2007 to October 2008. She provided details and evidence of the post-secondary diplomas and studies.
- [6] The refusal letter sets out the total number of points assessed as follows:

	Points Assessed	Maximum Possible
AGE	10	10
EDUCATION	15	25
FIRST OFFICIAL LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY	16	16
SECOND OFFICIAL LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY	00	8
EXPERIENCE	21	21
ARRANGED EMPLOYMENT	00	10
ADAPTABILITY	00	10
TOTAL	62	100

[7] The current pass mark is 67 points.

Relevant Legislation

[8] The relevant legislation is attached as an Appendix.

Analysis

Standard of Review

[9] Both of the parties agree that the Officer's assessment of the number of education points allotted is a highly factual determination to be reviewed on a standard of reasonableness. This finding is consistent with the jurisprudence of this Court (Dunsmuir v. New Brunswick, 2008 SCC 9, [2008] 1 S.C.R. 190 at paragraphs 57 and 62; Persaud v. Canada (Minister of Citizenship and Immigration), 2009 FC 206, [2009] F.C.J. No. 229 (QL); Hameed v. Canada (Minister of Citizenship and Immigration), 2008 FC 271, [2008] F.C.J. No. 341 (QL)).

[10] As such, a high degree of deference is required and the Court will not interfere with the decision unless it does not fall within a range of possible, acceptable outcomes which are defensible in respect of the facts and law (Dunsmuir, at paragraph 47).

Did the Officer err in assessing the points for education?

[11] As the question at issue clearly demonstrates, the sole issue here is the number of points awarded by the Officer under the education selection criteria. No other part of the assessment is contested.

[12] The Applicant submits that the Officer erred in assessing the number of points awarded for education. She claims that she should have received a minimum of 20 points out of 25. She urges that her diplomas fall within the meaning of an “education credential” at section 73 of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Regulations, SOR/2002-227 (the Regulations).

[13] The Respondent submits that the number of points assessed for the Applicant’s education is reasonable. The Respondent relies on the affidavit evidence and the Computer Assisted Immigration Processing System (CAIPS) notes of the Officer who conducted the assessment. The Respondent argues that the Applicant has a total of 13 years of completed studies. This because compulsory education in England consists of 11 years of schooling and the highest diploma obtained by the Applicant is the two-year B.T.E.C. National Diploma. The Officer's decision is based on two considerations: only the highest level diploma will be considered in assessing points and only the years of study required to obtain an education credential are included in the calculation; extra years being excluded.

[14] The Officer assessed the Applicant on the basis of her B.T.E.C. National Diploma. In the CAIPS notes, she writes that although the Applicant took three years to earn her degree, she has only awarded points for a two-year diploma as the credential is not a Higher National Diploma. In her affidavit, she explains that the former is a diploma of two-year scholarship while the latter is a diploma of three-year scholarship. The Officer also explains that the secondary school credential obtained by the Applicant only requires eleven years of education. Accordingly, she assessed 15 points pursuant to subparagraph 78(2)(c)(i) of the Regulations.

[15] The CAIPS notes are very succinct:

Applicant requesting NOC code for a preschool supervisor as opposed to helper though indicates preschool asst or helper on the forms. This is not an eligible profession (6473) however she has experience in another profession and full points awarded for experience

Applicant has a BTEC diploma, states took her three years however this is not a HND (higher national diploma) but a national diploma, 15 points awarded (have given for two years)

Applicant also has some other certificates on file but none on NARIC and none meet requirements of an educational credential. BTEC is highest diploma

62 points total and I believe points reflect the capacity to establish in CDA.

Applicant refused.

Refusal letter sent this day, copy on file

[16] The Court is of the opinion that there is a reviewable error here. The CAIPS notes do not indicate why the Officer granted only 11 years for the General Certificate of Education diplomas that the Applicant had provided (pages 79, 80 and 81 of the tribunal's record).

[17] The explanation can be found in the Officer's affidavit attached to the Respondent's memorandum of arguments. This goes well beyond an elaboration of the reasons and provides an after-the-fact rationale for the central issue in this application concerning the way that the points for education were calculated Healey v. Canada (Minister of Citizenship and Immigration), 2009 FC 355, [2009] F.C.J. No. 439 (QL), at paragraph 43 where Justice Russell cites bin Abdullah v. Canada (Minister of Citizenship and Immigration), 2006 FC 1185, [2006] F.C.J. No.1482 (QL), at paragraphs 12-15.

[18] At the hearing, the Respondent made an objection on the Applicant's oral submission on this point.

[19] It is evident from the record, particularly at page 40, that the primary and secondary school years obtained by the Applicant are 12 years and not 11. This is also confirmed at paragraph 7 of the Applicant's affidavit.

[20] Although it could have been better articulated in the Applicant's memorandum of arguments, the Court accepts that paragraphs 32, 33, 34 and 35 read as a whole can be tied to the applicant's oral submissions at the hearing.

[21] The Court is of the opinion that the matter should be remitted to another Officer for redetermination.

[22] The parties do not propose question for certification and none arise.

JUDGMENT

THIS COURT ORDERS that the application for judicial review be allowed. The matter is remitted back to a different visa Officer for re-determination. No question is certified.
